AFN: Afghanistan Afghani - Unsupported Currency

Market Description

The exchange rate arrangement is managed on a floating basis. Da Afghanistan Bank (DAB) intervenes regularly in the foreign exchange market through twice-weekly selling auctions, with the primary goal of regulating the growth of reserve money and/or currency in circulation. Given the flexibility in the Afghani-US dollar exchange rate, the de facto exchange rate arrangement is classified as floating. The DAB does not impose restrictions on the interbank foreign exchange market, but it is not active. Most foreign exchange transactions are between commercial banks and exchange dealers and their clients.

Special Handling

Clients can only purchase this currency for payments into country.

ALL: Albanian Lek

Market Description

The Bank of Albania (BOA) intervenes only in the following situations:

- * Severe and adverse movement in the exchange rate of the lek
- * Considerable exchange rate misalignment with fundamentals

The BOA intervenes verbally (through press releases and/or press conferences) and via transactions.

The de facto exchange rate arrangement is classified as floating.

Documentation Requirements

Advance payment in leks or the equivalent in foreign currency must be accompanied by the following documentation:

- * Application describing the nature and purpose of the transaction
- * A pro forma invoice and/or a contract with the terms of payment; (3) a customs declaration

For transfers related to commercial services, the license holders must obtain from each customer the following documentation:

- * Application describing the nature and purpose of the transaction
- * The invoice or a document certifying the purpose of the transfer and/or the respective contract or agreement

For transfers related to noncommercial transactions, the following are required:

- * The application
- * A declaration of the source of income for the transfer

For tax payments, a declaration form is required and needs to be provided by the taxpayer to the beneficiary bank.

Special Handling

Clients can only purchase this currency for payments into country.

AMD: Armenia Dram

Market Description

The exchange rate arrangement is floating. The Central Bank of Armenia (CBA) intervenes in the foreign exchange market only to smooth excessive exchange-rate volatility, which is defined as short-term, high-frequency exchange-rate movements caused by speculative or trend-following elements.

The CBA usually intervenes anonymously through the stock exchange and may also intervene openly in the interbank market, and it publishes weekly intervention data on its website every Monday.

Documentation Requirements

Payments larger than AMD 20,000,000 may require supporting documentation indicating POP (e.g. Invoice) from the beneficiary.

Special Handling

Clients can only purchase this currency for payments into country.

ANG: Netherland Antilles Guilder - Unsupported Currency

Market Description

The Central Bank van Curacao en Sint Maarten has been geared toward promoting a stable value of the Netherlands Antilles guilder (ANG) with respect to the US dollar (USD). Since 1971, the official rate of 1.79 has been firmly supported by the monetary authorities. The central bank's main reason for pegging the ANG to the USD is that over the years, more than 60% of its international trade relations have been conducted with the United States or in USD.

The foreign exchange policy aims to support monetary and economic policy efforts, to maintain the Countries of Curacao and Saint Maarten as an international financial centre, to prevent the use of Antillean guilders as a means of payment in the international payment system, and to gather the necessary information and data essential for compiling the balance of payments.

AOA: Angola Kwanza

Market Description

Although the exchange rate arrangement is floating, the Banco Nacional de Angola (BNA) intervenes in the foreign exchange market by holding foreign exchange auctions. The BNA receives taxes in foreign currency paid by oil companies to the government, which it sells exclusively through its auctions held three times a week. Through these auctions, the BNA influences the exchange rate.

ARS: Argentina Peso

Market Description

As of 17Dec2015 The Central Bank of Argentina (BCRA) has converted ARS to a free floating currency market. BCRA expects the official ARS rate to devalue in the short term and bridge the gap between the official ARS rate and the parallel rate known as the blue-chip swap. Central Bank is ready to step in, should declines in ARS revaluation become severe. BCRA expects that lifting exchange controls will lure investment and free up the economy.

Documentation Requirements

For incoming international wires, banks in Argentina must verify that this information is received and have controls to detect wires that do not contain this information which could remain "pending" until the information is received. If the information is not received within 20 business days, wires should be returned. Beginning October 6, 2014, Argentina requires supporting documentation for each payment in Argentine pesos (ARS) to comply with the country's exchange control regulations. The beneficiary email address must be included in the format noted below to ensure there are no delays in contacting the beneficiary.

Special Handling

Beneficiary pre-registration with our correspondent may be required prior to the first payment. The following information is required to set up a new beneficiary:

- * Beneficiary contact person's name and phone number
- * Beneficiary's 11-digit tax number (CUIT)
- * Amount of the intended first transaction
- * Full bank account details, including bank name and branch

Registration normally takes 1 week, but may take up to 3 weeks in exceptional cases.

All subsequent payments to the same beneficiary are eligible for straight-through processing (STP).

Payment details must still include the beneficiary's tax ID (CUIT). The beneficiary must provide supporting documentation to their bank indicating the purpose of each payment.

Clients can only purchase this currency for payments into country.

AWG: Aruba Florin

Market Description

The Central Bank of Aruba (CBA) determines the daily FX rate for the officially quoted foreign currencies, which commercial banks must adhere to when calculating foreign currency cross-rates among themselves and for transactions with residents and nonresidents.

If there is a large exchange-rate fluctuation of a foreign currency against the US dollar, for transactions with a counter value of AWG 100,000 or more, a new exchange rate may be determined. The spread between the foreign exchange buying and selling rates may not exceed 2%. The foreign exchange commission is not included in the bid-ask spreads, but is added afterward.

CNY: China Yuan

Market Description

The Chinese yuan (Renminbi) is managed as a float with reference to a basket of undisclosed currencies by the Peoples Bank of China. CNY is used for onshore delivery of Renminbi.

Documentation Requirements

Beneficiaries must provide all documents and uplift payment by value date, or the rate could default to the current market rate (no longer locked by remitter's trade).

It is a best practice to ask the remitter to notify beneficiaries of incoming CNY payment so that documents can be presented in timely manner.

Special Handling

CNY is the default currency for payments to individuals.

Local restrictions require all payments to be converted onshore.

Clients can only purchase this currency for payments into country.

All onshore delivery requires S.A.F.E. (State Administration of Foreign Exchange) approval.

Bene must hold multicurrency account to receive wire in CNY.

COP: Colombian Peso - Unsupported Currency

Market Description

The market is restricted by government, which enables central bank intervention to achieve balance-of-payment goals and inflation targets.

There is a liquid spot market onshore. Spot settles on a same day basis. Trading hours are 8:00 a.m. - 1:00 p.m., and the market is quoted mainly through an electronic system called Set FX.

Documentation Requirements

As of October 6, 2014, Colombia requires supporting documentation for each payment in Colombian pesos (COP) to comply with the country's exchange control regulations. The beneficiary's email address must be included to ensure there are no delays in contacting the beneficiary.

It is required that all residents (Colombian or non-resident) submit an Exchange Declaration (ED) when making a foreign exchange transaction.

Special Handling

Clients can only purchase this currency for payments into country.

DKK: Danish Krone

Market Description

Denmark's National bank is the central bank of Denmark. One of its main goals is to maintain price stability. Denmark's Nationalbank conducts a fixed-exchange-rate policy of the Danish krone (DKK) against the euro (EUR) in order to maintain low, stable inflation. Although Denmark has not adopted the euro, it is a member of the European System of Central Banks (ESCB) and has adopted the payment practices of the European Union.

The Danish FSA has issued regulations that effectively phase DKK cheques out of the market. As a result of these planned changes, effective 15Aug2016 we will no longer offer DKK drafts.

EUR: Euro

Market Description

The euro (EUR) is the official currency of the euro area, a monetary union of 19 European Union (EU) member states that have adopted the euro as their common currency. Along with the member-states, the EUR is the common currency used in a number of additional locations. The European Central Bank (ECB) is responsible for the monetary policy of the euro area. The ECB's primary objective is to maintain price stability and safeguard the value of the EUR. The ECB manages the EUR under a floating regime and is promoting the efficient use of payments across the region as well. The Single Euro Payments Area (SEPA) is a payment-integration initiative in the euro region by EU member-states to allow for easier cross-border payments of the EUR across the region. The payment instruments and technical frameworks for SEPA are developed and coordinated through the European Payments Council (EPC).

Euro settlements via high value clearing are available in 36 various countries. Euro settlements via low value clearing / SEPA are available in 34 various countries.

HTG: Haiti Gourde

Market Description

The exchange rate arrangement is floating. It was classified as a crawl-like arrangement as of April 2008, except for a disruption in the exchange rate market after the January 2010 earthquake, during which the Haitian gourde (HTG) was classified as other-managed arrangement for a short period from January through February 2010. The Bank of the Republic of Haiti (BRH) buys and sells foreign currency to smooth exchange-rate fluctuations.

Special Handling

Clients can only purchase this currency for payments into country.

HUF: Hungarian Forint

Market Description

The Magyar Nemzeti Bank (MNB) is the central bank of the Republic of Hungary. Along with the primary goal of maintaining price stability, the MNB also maintains the Hungarian forint (HUF) under a floating regime. The HUF is fully convertible and has historically been most often traded against the euro. Hungary joined the European Union in 2004 and continues to place special emphasis on EU integration, including implementing best payment practices within the community.

IDR: Indonesia Rupiah

Market Description

The exchange rate arrangement is free floating. Bank Indonesia (BI) may intervene whenever necessary to achieve the inflation target and to maintain macroeconomic stability. When it intervenes, the BI does not target a specific rate or maintain exchange-rate movements within a specific band; rather it provides liquidity to maintain market stability.

Documentation Requirements

Transfers of IDR 500 million or more require supporting documents indicating the purpose and exact amount of each payment. These documents include a copy of the invoice or payroll request, or a letter on signed letterhead describing reason for the transfer.

IQD: Iraqi Dinar

Market Description

The exchange rate arrangement is floating. The Central Bank of Iraq (CBI) has allowed the Iraqi dinar (IQD) exchange rate to appreciate gradually in relation to the US dollar (USD) following a predetermined path. Within these limits, the exchange rate of the dinar is determined in the foreign exchange market.

There currently are no broad-based OFAC sanctions against Iraq, but there are certain prohibitions and asset freezes against specific individuals and entities.

ISK: Iceland Krona

Market Description

The exchange rate arrangement is free-floating. The Central Bank of Iceland (CBI) may intervene in the interbank foreign exchange market and has done so occasionally. Derivatives contracts involving domestic currency against foreign currency require CBI approval. Derivatives transactions related solely to trade in goods and services do not fall under this restriction.

Special Handling

Payments must be entered in whole currency amounts, since fractional units are not used. Iceland introduced "new investment program" under which foreign and domestic investors may import foreign capital and invest it domestically without locking in their funds because of the capital controls in the Foreign Exchange Act.

There are restrictions on permissible types of investments, such as:

- * Derivatives and derivative-related contractual provisions
- * Investments in claims against entities undergoing winding-up or insolvency proceedings

Foreign Currency account balances dating before 31 October 2009 and subject to repatriation requirements pursuant to Article 13(l) of the Foreign Exchange Act are not classified under the new investment program.

For more specific detail, please see Central Bank of Iceland's New Investment Policy.

MMK: Myanmar Kyat - Unsupported Currency

Market Description

The exchange rate arrangement is a managed float. In April 2012, the Central Bank of Myanmar (CBM) started daily two-way, multiple-price foreign currency auctions, which enable the market to determine an exchange rate the CBM can use to set its new reference rate. However, the CBM reserves the right to intervene periodically to mitigate undue exchange-rate volatility and support Myanmar kyat (MMK) liquidity.

Special Handling

Full instructions are required upfront for validation purposes prior to pricing.
Clients can only purchase this currency for payments into country.

MWK: Malawi Kwacha

Market Description

The exchange rate arrangement is floating. Official intervention focuses on meeting the net-foreign-reserves target and limiting exchange-rate volatility (while taking seasonal fluctuations into account). In May 2012, the Reserve Bank of Malawi (RBM) devalued the Malawi kwacha (MWK) from MWK 168 to MWK 250 per US dollar (USD). Since then, the RBM has not set a target rate and allowed substantial volatility in the exchange rate, including recent depreciation to around MWK 435 per USD by early January 2014. The de facto exchange rate arrangement was reclassified to floating from other-managed, effective May 7, 2012.

RUB: Russian Ruble - Unsupported Currency

Market Description

Data: The Central Bank of Russia (CBR) manages the Russian ruble (RUB) rate under a managed float arrangement against the band set against the EUR-USD basket. The CBR seeks a quasi-floating arrangement by allowing for increased RUB volatility with reduced interventions. It only intervenes when it deems necessary to reduce excessive volatility and ease speculative pressure.

*For Receivables: Certain restrictions may apply.

Special Handling

Payments for goods and services, and loans to Russian beneficiaries exceeding USD 5,000, may require the beneficiary to open a "passport" (passport sdekli).

Include the following:

- * 20-digit account number starting with the number 4
- * 20-character KORR number if the beneficiary bank account is not with the Central Bank. The KORR starts with the digits 301, and the last 3 digits of the KORR should match those of the BIK
- * 9-character BIK code
- * Taxpayer identification - INN code (10 characters for companies, 12 for residents)
- * VO code (5 digits) indicating the purpose of payment

Patronymic name may be required if beneficiary is female, resident and natural-born citizen of Russian Federation.

SOS: Somalia Shilling - Unsupported Currency

Market Description

The Somali shilling (SOS) exists in a dual market. The first is the official market managed by the Central Bank of Somalia (CBS) which is regaining monetary control after its 15-year absence due to civil war. The second is a free market where the rate is negotiated between resident holders of foreign exchange accounts.

The US dollar (USD) is widely accepted, especially for medium and large transactions as the economy is deeply dollarized due to weak confidence in the SOS.

Exchange rates fluctuate, at times significantly, and you acknowledge and accept all risks that may result from such fluctuations. If we assign an exchange rate to your foreign exchange transaction, that exchange rate will be determined by us in our sole discretion based upon such factors as we determine relevant, including without limitation, market conditions, exchange rates charged by other parties, our desired rate of return, market risk, credit risk and other market, economic and business factors, and is subject to change at any time without notice. You acknowledge that exchange rates for retail and commercial transactions, and for transactions effected after regular business hours and on weekends, are different from the exchange rates for large inter-bank transactions effected during the business day, as may be reported in The Wall Street Journal or elsewhere. Exchange rates offered by other dealers or shown at other sources by us or other dealers (including online sources) may be different from our exchange rates. The exchange rate you are offered may be different from, and likely inferior to, the rate paid by us to acquire the underlying currency.

We provide all-in pricing for exchange rates. The price provided may include profit, fees, costs, charges or other mark ups as determined by us in our sole discretion. The level of the fee or markup may differ for each customer and may differ for the same customer depending on the method or venue used for transaction execution.

In connection with our market making and other activities, we may engage in hedging, including pre-hedging, to mitigate our risk, facilitate customer transactions and hedge any associated exposure. Such activities may include trading ahead of order execution. These transactions will be designed to be reasonable in relation to the risks associated with the potential transaction with you. These transactions may affect the price of the underlying currency, and consequently, your cost or proceeds. You acknowledge that we bear no liability for these potential price movements. When our pre-hedging and hedging activity is completed at prices that are superior to the agreed upon execution price or benchmark, we will keep the positive difference as a profit in connection with the transactions. You will have no interest in any profits.

We also may take proprietary positions in certain currencies. You should assume we have an economic incentive to be a counterparty to any transaction with you. Again, you have no interest in any profit associated with this activity and those profits are solely for our account.

You acknowledge that the parties to these exchange rate transactions engaged in arm's-length negotiations. You are a customer and these transactions do not establish a principal/agent relationship or any other relationship that may create a heightened duty for us.

We do not accept any liability for our exchange rates. Any and all liability for our exchange rates is disclaimed, including without limitation direct, indirect or consequential loss, and any liability if our exchange rates are different from rates offered or reported by third parties, or offered by us at a different time, at a different location, for a different transaction amount, or involving a different payment media (including but not limited to bank-notes, checks, wire transfers, etc.).
